

Scaffold

Scaffold, a traditional game, is a poor cousin of Brigitte.

Players: Two

Supplies Graph paper and two pencils of different colors.

Rules: Draw a 12×12 playing board.

Taking turns, each player draws a diagonal line through a square with his colored pencil. Players may not draw a diagonal line through a square that either player has already used. A player's diagonal line may not touch the end of a diagonal made by his opponent. The object of the first player is to connect the right and left sides of the board with a chain of diagonals. The second player must connect the top and bottom sides of the board. The first to do so wins.
