

Teblo

Ton Custers, 1985 – 2015, <https://boardgamegeek.com/boardgame/187982/teblo>

The game is played on a 12x12 board, with four colored squares

Each player has 50 pieces and one pawn

From each player's perspective, their home base is located at the lower-left corner of the board.

At the start of the game, the pawns are placed on their corresponding home base. The 140 white squares are empty.

Rules

On his turn, the player can either:

1. Place a friendly piece of your color on an empty square (not over a home base or on a colored square)
2. Move his pawn orthogonally to an adjacent square not occupied by the adversary pawn (it can move over pieces of either color)

It is forbidden to make a move that prevents a player from reaching a home base they must always remain accessible. This does not include where the pawns are.

A player may not defend their own base square with their own pawn.

Consequently, an attacking pawn may move onto the opponent's base square even if the opponent's pawn is currently there.

Goal. A player wins if either:

- his pawn reaches the opponent's base square
- it is the opponent's turn, and the opponent has no legal move
